Vehr Communications CEO Featured in Cincy Magazine

CINCINNATI (OH) – October 19, 2009: Founder and CEO of Vehr Communications, Nick Vehr, recently was featured in the October/November edition of Cincy Magazine, a magazine for business professionals in Greater Cincinnati.

The article profiles Nick's deep Cincinnati roots, his experience as a member of Cincinnati City Council, his roles within leading Cincinnati companies and organizations and how his entrepreneurial spirit ultimately led to the formation of Vehr Communications. Based on his experiences, Nick saw an opening in the marketplace for a more encompassing strategic communications firm - not just a company focused on one aspect of communications.

According to Vehr, "Technology has forever changed strategic communications. Our positioning in this market, our involvement in IPREX, a global partnership of more than 90 independently and locally owned communications firms, leave us very optimistic about the future. We are all excited for what the next several years have in store for our firm. We're anxious to be of service to some of this region's leading companies, organizations and communities."

Vehr Communications has grown to more than 20 clients and seven employees since being founded in 2007.
